ABOUT THE BOOK

One boy will journey against all odds to save his people...and his world.

At age sixteen, Mink Jolle still hasn't discovered his Elemental affinity, which is an identity crisis on the planet Georra. Enduring constant bullying and held back in school, his parents devise drastic measures to help him find his affinity.

During Mink's testing, he and his parents unearth an incredible find—an immense geode buried deep in the ground fabled to be the Tear of God—and the first nation to claim it will hold power and protection unrivaled on Georra.

Now the race is on to acquire the Tear of God. Mink must journey against all odds and rely upon his own strengths to save his people and his world, and discover his true identity.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Raymond has enjoyed writing from an early age. After exploring a variety of other formats, he just recently started writing novels. His character driven stories reflect the diversity of the places he has lived and the jobs he has had, focusing on animals and film. He currently lives in California with his wife and two daughters.
